May 14th. (To O'Meara.) So you * us, doctor ? Will the world believe ttu cowardly enough to attack my doctor ?

July 25th. (To O'Meara.) The eric plished more quickly. I have lived tc Your ministry does not lack courage; \\ in France, I would sooner have cut off E have signed an order for the removal of

When you arrive in Europe you will or send to my brother Joseph. You wil I desire that he shall give you the par< private and confidential letters of the Er and Francis, the King of Prussia, and tb of Europe, which I delivered to his c You will publish them, to cover thos shame. When I was strong, and in pc for my protection, and licked the dus feet. Now, in my old age, they basely take my wife and child from me. Fare^ shall never meet again. Be happy!

September 26th. Place that dear < mother, there, on the right, nearer to r recognise her by her colour: it's Marie her son in her arms. And the other, —